U-M BlueJeans Conferencing Service for the Dissertation Defense: Candidate Instructions

You are responsible for scheduling the Oral Defense meeting when registering online with Rackham for a pre-defense review, at least three weeks before the defense date. These instructions will tell you how to schedule and set up a remote defense using U-M’s BlueJeans conferencing service. You will need to set up invitations to 2 BlueJeans meetings: one for the public portion of your defense, and the second for the closed portion of your defense.

If you have already scheduled your defense and completed the registration for the pre-defense review with Rackham, please immediately choose one of these options and go to BlueJeans to schedule a meeting. In the "schedule a new meeting" section of BlueJeans, enter "Oral Defense - Your Name - uniqname". Invite oard.staff@umich.edu in the "Invite Participants" box. OARD will replace the room/building information with the BlueJeans link so the public can participate in your defense remotely.

Creating your public presentation link

2. Click the blue “Schedule Meeting” Button
3. Enter the Title and time for your defense in the appropriate box

4. Enter the email address or uniquename of each person you would like to view the dissertation defense. This should include all of your committee members as well anyone from the public that you would like to invite.

5. If you would like to record your defense, click the “Advanced Options” tab and make sure the box next to “Enable Auto Recording” is checked.
6. Click “Schedule Meeting”

Creating your closed defense committee meeting link

This link will be used for closed discussion between the candidate and committee. NOTE: You may be asked to sign off so the committee can discuss among themselves. Your chair will send you an email when you can rejoin the committee.

1. Repeat steps 1-3 listed above.

2. Enter the email address or uniquename of each of your committee members only.

3. If you would like to record the committee portion of your defense, click the “Advanced Options” tab and make sure the box next to “Enable Auto Recording” is checked.

4. Click “Schedule Meeting”

Testing your computer audio and video

2. Click “Test Video Setup” button on the left side of the screen
3. If you have already installed BlueJeans, a video of a blue and yellow bird wearing a beret will open in a new window.

4. If you have not installed BlueJeans, you will be prompted to download and install the app.

5. Once the app has installed just click the “Test Video Setup” button again. You should now see a video of a bird moving and making noise.

6. If you are still experiencing technical problems contact BlueJeans Support at +1 (408) 791 2830
